3 Mrs Kay Hull

I am writing you this letter to respond to the letter I received in the mail on 28-07-03 about child support.

I was recently in a violent relationship with my ex-boyfriend and for 2½ years and I found the courage him in Queensland to come to Wagga to start somewhere new. When I left him I had a 13 month old son and pregnant with my second child.

In my opinion if a carer/parent has done bad deeds they should have counselling, anger management, alcohol abuse, as well as supervision if they are to have any part of a child's life.

It worries me to think that there might be a new rule brought in that both parents will receive financial assistance for bringing up the child/children.

I know that it is preferable for a child to have both parents but sometimes it is better for a child not to know the other parent when they are going to be a bad influence and pass on problems down to the next generation.

Thank you for reading my letter
Your Sincerely
