Attention

Committee Secretary
 Joint Standing Committee on Electoral Matters
 Department of House of Representatives
 Parliament House
 Canberra ACT.

Dear Committee Secretary,

As a voting citizen and an avid observer of parliamentary proceedings I continually am frustrated by decisions made by our representatives, and I, not knowing whether these decisions were made purely on party lines or whether the religion of that member determined his or her decision.

For clarity I feel we as the voting public should have available to us a listing of members religions.

Particularly so for forthcoming deliberation prior to elections because of the validation of a religious party 'Family First' being eligible to operate within our parliamentary confines.

What procedures would have to be adopted for the pursuance of above?

Sincerely,
