

Supp.
Submission No: 1316

Date Received: 11-9-03

SUBMISSION (4)

For THE PAYING PARENT who is a Sole Proprietor (owns a business) that the Child Support Payment be calculated on the INCOME of the BUSINESS not the Profit of the Business.

PAYING PARENTS who are ordinary workers – their Payments are calculated on their GROSS WAGE BEFORE TAX – Surely the INCOME of a Business is the equivalent.

As we understand – PAYING PARENTS in this position often are able to “hide” their true INCOME.

My husband is an ordinary worker, we pay $105 per week for his daughter’s Child Support. A friend of ours owns a “Business” – he pays $15 per week for his son. This is hardly fair nor equitable for those ordinary men/women who are paying their Taxes and supporting their Country and their Children.

Lynda Yelland
17 Silks Road
KURMOND, NSW 2757

