Dear Government Official,

I am writing to express my grave concern about introducing nuclear power into Australia. I fear that it is a short-sighted solution that will have devastating consequences on our environment and the human population in the future. If the government and business supported clean, green, renewable energy sources they could be implemented in a viable way. It is the lack of commitment, vision and leadership that is the main source of reluctance to even try implementing safe, renewable energy sources on a large scale. Nuclear power should be the last resort, not the first attempt to wean Australians off non-renewable energy sources. Please take a long-term view, burying nuclear waste in boxes underground is not sustainable and will have as devastating an affect on the environment and humanity's future as current energy sources have had so far.

Yours sincerely,

Jeanie Wylie.
