

CHAIR: Just help me out. Did the report identify lack of competition as a risk?

Mr Hassan: I would need to go back and refer to the document.

CHAIR: Yes, if you wouldn't mind taking that on notice. I think the answer is going to be no, but I am interested to see if that was considered.

EY's response:

Page 147 of the ASX Special Report identified ASX Risk Theme number 24 addresses the competitive environment, specifically the:

"Inability to identify new competitors and/or manage existing competition resulting in loss of business, customer complaint, reputational damage and deteriorating investor sentiment."

All Risk Themes were assessed in EY's Special Report on support and maintenance of CHES.
