Addition

Item number	Details
12. Sponsored travel or hospitality	On the back of being in Queensland for the Metcash conference and some meetings to assist with a proposed new senate enquiry I decided to reach out and ask for tickets to the State of Origin decider at Suncorp Stadium. The NRL (National Rugby League) was in a benevolent mood and acquiesced to my request with a grandstand seat. It was the first time I had been to a decider in Brisbane since I was working with the Mighty Newcastle Knights in 2005 (when the blues were triumphant) and I attended with some trepidation. There was no need to worry as the superior skills and passion of the Magnificent Blues were too much for the Queenslanders to handle. There was no catering provided but I was able to purchase sustenance and sated my appetite for all other things with the sweet taste of victory over the banana benders. Cost - unknown

11. Gifts	Following on from the Senate Supermarkets enquiry I attended the Metcash convention and foodexpo at Broadbeach in Queensland. At the expo which gathered nearly 100 suppliers and thousands of independent retailers under the one roof, I was able to further discuss the treatment of suppliers and growers by the supermarkets, the challenges of cost of living, staffing and supply chains. It included a dinner of 12-Hour slow cooked Lamb Shoulder, sprouts, chats and slaw at social eating house on the Monday evening. Whilst back at the expo on Tuesday there I was also forced into a prawn peeling competition where I placed second last but had the foresight to eat the prawns I peeled rather than just putting them in a container (waste not - want not). I, like all attendees also had a number of samples and gifts provided including 2 x PepsiMax 600ml, 1, Bulla Ice Cream Scoop, A Pork Slider, some Prosciutto ham, a freshly squeezed pineapple juice, a Cadbury "choctop". My sons also attended for half a day and basically went on a free sample "treasure hunt" that i could not keep track of. Price - Not Calculated

It is also one of the premier publicly owned companies listed on the Australian Stock Securities Exchange. Orica's more than 12,500 community of engineers, scientists, technologists, operators, business specialists and on-site crew support customers in surface and underground mines, quarry, construction, and oil and gas operations in over 100 countries around the world. Their work over the last 150 years has been so important to Australia's growth and prosperity which is why I was excited to be gifted "Orica: From the Goldfields to the Global Stage" by John Durie ISBN:978-0-522-88049-6 a 221 page hardcover deep dive into the rich history of the company. 12. Sponsored travel or hospitality	It appears the best thing I can do to support my local Newcastle Jets Soccer team is to stay away from their games. I was gifted two tickets to the corporate facility by the Jets to their round 16 Australia Cup fixture against Macarthur FC at Maitland Sportsground on Sunday 25 August. What started out promising after a converted penalty in the 15th minute and a second goal only a few minutes later slowly crumbled in heartbreaking circumstances during the second half, and sadly the thrilling seven-goal encounter that rainy day didn't go our way. I am somewhat to blame by mentioning to Lucas Coleman at half time when we were 2-0 up that over the 15 games I have attended as a guest between the sponsorship deal at my previous job at The Port of Newcastle and my current position, I had never seen a Jets win – Cost Unknown

12. Sponsored travel or hospitality	Finally, I was able to celebrate the appointment of my wonderful former Port of Newcastle colleague and good friend Tanya McDonald to the ranks of renowned firm DPG Advisory Solutions where she will be working on regulatory and policy advice, media relations, strategic communications and stakeholder campaign development as part of DPG's experienced team. The sophisticated and remarkable classic European bistro style dining experience we enjoyed at Louis eclipsed the Harry's Café de'Wheels pie's and hot dog's we'd lunched on in our previous working life next door to our former office, beside the beautiful working Newcastle harbour. – Cost unknown <$300

Upon entry to the event I was gifted a great little Cricket Australia branded Mini Autograph Cricket Bat and marker pen however the lines to have the bats autographed were very long and this fanboy didn't end up making it to the front before the conclusion of the event but while in line I dined on a single curry pie with a core temperature that unfortunately rivalled the temperatures of both the sun and the hotter again old school McDonalds Apple Pie's that I use to eat in my youth and I ended up burning my papillae and taste buds – Cost of mini bat and curry pie unknown, cost to taste buds unmeasurable. <$300

11. Gifts	Wesley Mission contacted my office on behalf of their LifeForce initiative and the local Suicide Prevention Network with an information pack containing heartbreaking information from the Australian Institute of Health and Welfare. The information they provided contained disappointing statistics like more Australians die by suicide each year than in road accidents, and up to 65,000 people attempt suicide in Australia each year. They thoughtfully included in their pack a powerful 320 page paperback book, "Profiles in Hope" (ISBN 978-0733651779) authored by my longtime friend John Brogden, a challenging and encouraging read where he speaks with 15 Australians who tell their stories of surviving suicide and finding the way back to a better life, and provides a valuable insight into how suicide touches our community – Cost $26.25 from Amazon, with all royalties earned from the sale of each book going to Lifeline.

11. Gifts	From a passion for the creative and experiential, Earp Distilling Co. was established to learn from centuries of distillers experiences, to create a spirit brand and distillery synonymous with quality, sustainability and adventure. They are a Newcastle success story and were also very kind to host Senator McKenzie and myself on a tour of their fascinating Carrington facilities recently and to talk about their industry and opportunities for growth. Following a lunch of a selection of their in house menu our wonderful hosts Richard and Michael proudly provided 200ml bottles of "Reggie's Rum" to us both, a Tawny drink with hints of citrus zest and soft oak, its a lighter and more refined sip than many of the heavy Australian craft rums on the market and a drink so special to the family they named it after their fathers uncle Reggie who succumbed to injuries sustained during World War I. A man so special that when reporting his death to the family, the Chaplain at the time relayed how popular Reggie was with his comrades and superiors, and that he always did his duty faithfully and well. It's for that meritable spirit that they wanted to honour him with this rum. You wont see a declaration from Senator McKenzie for her rum as I was able to snag hers too – Cost $29.99ea from the Earp Distilling Co. website

Through the efforts of Veolia employees, thousands of Bell Frog tadpoles were bred and released back into a conservation area on the Kurnell Peninsula to help them thrive, almost three decades after they were last spotted in the area. The Bell Frog is symbolic of Veolia's support for sustainability and in that vein the Bell Frog Tailored Gin was born. Crafted by the award-winning Archie Rose Distilling Co. for Veolia, the Bell Frog Tailored Native Botanical Gin is a premium dry drop made using desalinated water from a facility operated by Veolia with exciting tasting notes of Juniper, River Mint, Lime & Pink Peppercorn. 11. Gifts	As part of an awareness campaign organised by Melbourne architect Marcus O'Reilly, I along with 226 other MP's and Senators received today a package containing 5 paperback books on the current situation in Gaza and the wider history of the Middle East. In an online article about the origins on the book campaign, The Guardian published "Some of Australia's most prominent authors are among a group of more than 90 writers and literary supporters who have paid for every federal parliamentarian to receive a carefully curated package of books on the Middle East to expand their knowledge of the history of the conflict. Each of the 227 MPs and senators is being given the same five books – nonfiction, fiction and reference works – as part of the campaign to encourage wider reading on the origins of the Middle East conflict among Australia's political leaders. Writers including Tim Winton, Charlotte Wood, Michelle de Kretser and JM Coetzee have backed the Summer Reading for MPs campaign which is appealing directly to parliamentarians to deepen their understanding of the complexity of relations in the region." – Cost Unknown

Building on the inaugural years success, the 2025 event will not only host NRL opening round matches but is being expanded to also include an opening round match of the United Kingdom's Super League, also showcase an ashes test match between the Australia and England women's national sides and both United States men's and women's national teams will face Greece the day before the 2025 event. The only thing missing is that the Mighty Newcastle Knights are not on the program, aside from that I am honoured to receive from the NRL a gift of a Steeden size 5 official replica Las Vegas match ball, an exact replica of the game ball that will be used featuring a design encompassing Old Glory, the flag of the United States of America – Cost $69.99 from steeden.com.au
