Senator Janet Rice asked:

Senator RICE: What's the general advice that those EAP counsellors are providing to affected community members seeking help?

Mr Curran: I'll have to take that on notice. As far as I'm aware, we don't have any information about the specifics, much like with our employees. But there may be some general themes that we'd be able to provide, on notice, that might be relevant.

Answer:

The EAP is a confidential counselling service that is made available to individuals and delivered by a psychologist or relevant professional.
