- (1) What does the Government consider as grounds that could be used to justify under international law the use of a pre-emptive strike.
- (2) Has the Government conducted any analysis in support of a change to international law so that a pre-emptive strike can be justified under the UN Charter's provisions on self-defence; if so, what has been the content of that analysis.

1302 MR RUDD: To ask the Minister for Foreign Affairs—

- (1) Has his attention been drawn to the Prime Minister's statement on 1 December 2002 about the circumstances under which Australia would be justified in undertaking a pre-emptive military strike against the territory of a neighbouring state.

1303 MR RUDD: To ask the Minister for Foreign Affairs—

- (2) Has his attention been drawn to statements coming out of the region such as those by The Philippines National Security Adviser Roilo Golez who said that in view of the Prime Minister's statement, Mr Golez has recommended that The Philippines review and go slow on the proposed anti-terror pact with Australia because it might be used for a pre-emptive strike agenda.
- (3) If so, how does he reconcile his and Mr Golez's statements.
- (4) Is the Prime Minister's statement on 1 December 2002 on the new Howard doctrine of Australian military pre-emption in South East Asia now fundamentally undermining Australia's pre-existing policy of working conjointly and cooperatively with the Government's of South East Asia with the common objective of eliminating terrorism within our region.

1304 MR RUDD: To ask the Minister for Foreign Affairs—

- (1) Is he able to say why the Prime Minister's announcement of the new Howard doctrine of Australian military pre-emption in South East Asia on 1 December 2002 did not contain within it an explicit precondition that Australia would only act militarily within South East Asia in cooperation with the relevant Government in the region.
- (2) Did he state on the ABC's World Today program on 2 December 2002 that he would hope that an attack would be done through regional co-operation.

1305 MR RUDD: To ask the Minister for Foreign Affairs—

- (5) Given the Government committed this country militarily to the elimination of al Qaeda in Afghanistan in November 2001, and given the knowledge that al Qaeda operatives were already well established in the region, what was the Australian Government's assessment of the likely al Qaeda retaliation through its cells in South-East Asia to the tens of thousands of Australians living in South-East Asia at that time.
- (6) When did the Government conclude that Australians were much more likely to become the target of al Qaeda operatives already well established in the region.

1306 MR RUDD: To ask the Minister for Foreign Affairs—

- (3) Would the Government support pre-emptive use of military force by Indonesia's Special Forces, Kopassus, against organisations seeking independence such as the Free Papua Movement (OPM) and their support networks based on Australian soil.

1308 MR RUDD: To ask the Minister for Foreign Affairs—

- (1) In his meeting with ASEAN Heads of Mission on 5 December 2002, did he rule out the option of regional pre-emptive military action by Australia to security threats to Australians or did he leave the door open to the possibility that regional pre-emptive military action may be a possibility into the future.

- (3) Did the Government assess the possibility that Australians in the region would be at a greater threat at the time the Government's decision to commit Australian forces against al Qaeda in Afghanistan.

1336 MR MURPHY: To ask the Attorney-General—

- (1) Further to his reply to question No. 1129 (Hansard, 4 February 2003, page 156), why did he believe that it was improbable that Dr Malcolm Arthur Colston would give his consent to exercise an exemption under the Privacy Act which would release the medical reports of the two eminent and independent medical specialists who examined Dr Colston in May 1999 in relation to his fitness to stand trial on twenty-eight charges of defrauding the Commonwealth through travel rorts.
- (2) Has he asked Dr Colston for his consent to the release of those two medical reports; if so when and what was Dr Colston's reply; if not, why not.
- (3) Is he able to say whether the provisions of the Privacy Act to which he refers constitute a compellable power at law on him to exercise that power; if so, upon what basis is that compellable-duty based; if not, why is the statutory power under the Privacy Act to seek the exemption from Dr Colston to consent to the disclosure of the subject information a non-compellable duty.
- (4) Is the exercise of this power an administrative power held in the hands of himself; if not, what type of power is it.
- (5) What power does he rely upon to make a decision on a balance of probabilities to refuse to consider the exercise of the statutory power under the Privacy Act to seek the consent of Dr Colston to publicly release the two medical reports.
- (6) Does the discretionary power to seek the consent of Dr Colston rest with Dr Colston.
- (7) Will he exercise his power afforded under the Privacy Act; if so, when; if not, why not.
- (8) In his refusal to exercise his statutory power to seek the consent of Dr Colston to the release of the two medical reports is he able to say whether this could be a breach of power or an error of law; if so, how; if not, why not.
- (9) What are the reasons that he believes that the public interest of twenty-eight charges of defrauding the Commonwealth through travel rorts is outweighed by the privacy provisions protecting the disclosure of the two medical reports in relation to Dr Colston.
- (10) In forming his opinion in relation to the weight of balance between the two competing interests, has he exercised an administrative power or a judicial power in his decision not to release the subject information covered by parliamentary privilege; if so, what is that power; if not, why not.

1337 MR MURPHY: To ask the Attorney-General—Further to paragraph 3 of his reply to question No. 1130 (Hansard, 4 February 2003, page 156) that the public interest is not established because something is of interest to the public but a higher standard of serious concern or benefit to the public is required rather than merely of individual interest, why is the matter of the public release of those two medical reports, bearing in mind their relationship to the twenty-eight charges of defrauding the Commonwealth through travel rorts originally brought against Dr Malcolm Arthur Colston, something that is of insufficient concern or benefit to the public.

 - (4) Further to the reply to parts (5), (6), (7), (8) and (10) of question No. 1149, has Dr Colston expressed any reservations to the DPP about his capacity to submit himself for further medical appointments or any other medical tests since he was examined by the Professor of Medicine on 10 October 2002 in relation to establishing his fitness to stand trial on the twenty-eight charges of defrauding the Commonwealth through travel rorts; if so, what are those reservations.
 - (5) Further to the reply to part (9) of question No. 1149, (a) what does he mean by "arrangements for Dr Colston's attendance", (b) what are the other matters raised by Dr Colston's solicitors and do these matters relate to Dr Colston's capacity to be able to attend for medical examinations and medical tests; if so, what are these matters and (c) could Dr Colston be medically examined or medically tested at home; if not, why not.

 - (2) Has any medical evidence come to light associated with the current review of the case of Dr Colston by the DPP that would suggest or indicate that Dr Colston is not terminally ill; if so, (a) who expressed such views, (b) when were they expressed and (c) what are those views.

- (2) Does the drop in the number of barristers with outstanding debts from 590 to 432 from 1999-2000 to the 2000-2001 demonstrate the success of the Legal Profession Project (LPP); if so, how; if not, why not.
- (3) Is the success in the project supported by the statistics cited by the Commissioner of Taxation on page 63 of the 2000-2001 annual report that overall the number of cases for barristers decreased 26 per cent, and the total debt dropped 14 per cent; if so, how; if not, why not.

- (9) In light of the similarity of facts between the Cummins and Archer matters with intent to transfer property out of reach of creditors, can he say whether the Commissioner of Taxation is prosecuting with full force, his powers under section 121 of the Bankruptcy Act and elsewhere, with respect to those 590 barristers deliberately transferring property or other assets so as to defeat creditors, principally, the Commissioner of Taxation; if so, how; if not, why not.

*1551 MR MURPHY: To ask the Treasurer—

- (1) Did the omission of the activities of the Legal Profession Project from the Commissioner of Taxation's annual report of 2001-2002 have any relationship with the revelations that disgraced barrister John Cummins QC had not lodged an income tax return for forty-five years; if not, why not.
- (2) Will the Commissioner of Taxation report on the activities of the Legal Profession Project in future annual reports; if not, why not.

*1552 MR MURPHY: To ask the Attorney-General—

- (2) Is he aware that the report notes that Mr Stevens is known to be in practise for 28 years, a senior counsel for 11 years and specialised in tax advice for much of his career?
- (3) Is he able to say on what grounds the Supreme Court of NSW granted an extension of time in which Mr Stevens could file an appeal against being removed from the roll and under what power did Mr Stevens seek this extension; if so, what are those grounds and what is the power; if not, why not.
- (4) What action is he taking to ensure that the common law and administrative maxim that justice is not only done, but manifestly seen to be done is applied to ensure that public confidence is restored to the legal profession.
