- (5) notes research findings that people management practices are the predominant factor affecting company productivity and performance;
- (6) notes research findings that indicate Australian managers are paying insufficient attention to workplace practices and employee satisfaction; and
- (7) supports the establishment of a National Commission for Workplace Innovation and Excellence that will, in conjunction with the business community, trade union movement, professional associations and education providers:

†2 MR WOOD: To move—That the House:

- (1) notes that:
  - (a) microfinance has proven to be a particularly effective and sustainable means of eradicating poverty;
  - (b) microfinance borrowers, particularly women, generate income that allows them to feed, clothe, educate and care for the health of their children;
  - (c) in December 2006, 93 million of the poorest people had access to microfinance services, which is a 12-fold increase since 1997;
  - (d) in support of the poverty eradication goal of the Millennium Development Goals, the Microcredit Summit Campaign, launched in 1997, is working to expand microfinance to 175 million of the poorest people by 2015;
  - (e) the Microcredit Summit Campaign is holding an Asia-Pacific Microcredit Summit in Bali between the 29th and 30th July 2008;
  - (f) the Asia-Pacific region contains 64 per cent of the world's population who live in absolute poverty, and as such it has a large unmet need for credit and other financial services; and
  - (g) the Bali Summit is a significant opportunity to examine ways to expand the use and effectiveness of microfinance in the region and to realise the Government's policy objective of reducing poverty in the Asia-Pacific region; and
- (2) urges the Australian Government to send the appropriate Minister and appropriate Shadow Minister as leaders of an Australian delegation to the Asia-Pacific Microcredit Summit in Bali in July 2008. (Notice given 13 May 2008. Time allowed—35 minutes.)

†3 MS OWENS: To move—That the House notes:

- (1) that Ovarian Cancer Awareness Week will be held from 24 February to 2 March 2008;

- (3) that when ovarian cancer is diagnosed at an early stage, the outlook is very good—as many as 90% of women diagnosed early are cured. However, 75% of women are diagnosed at the advanced stage when it is very difficult to treat;
- (4) that it is a devastating disease that is difficult to diagnose early and treat at an advanced stage. A woman dies every 10 hours largely because of the lack of early detection tests and poor knowledge of the disease throughout the community;
- (5) that a recent Senate Community Affairs inquiry into gynaecological cancer in Australia (tabled 27 February 2007) identified a need for increased awareness amongst the broader community about gynaecological cancers and symptoms and better educational support for general practitioners;
- (6) that a survey commissioned by the National Breast Cancer Centre has revealed that half of all Australian women believe incorrectly that a pap smear will detect ovarian cancer and that 56% of women are unable to correctly name any signs or symptoms of the disease; and
- (7) the need for greater focus on education and additional research funding to help Australian scientists to find early detection markers and more effective treatments of this insidious disease. (Notice given 18 February 2008. Time allowed—remaining private Members' business time prior to 8.30 p.m.)
