

PW 12/08/09

Australasian Compounders Association

Comment upon Health Impacts of Compounded impotency medicines in Australia to Round table forum to be held by House Standing Committee on Health & Ageing.

Mark Hickey
Director
Australasian Compounders Association

The Australasian Compounders Association (ACA) is a non-profit association formed in 2007 to provide representation on matters pertaining to pharmacy compounding to government, professional and regulatory organisations in Australia and New Zealand.

Our membership consists of pharmacists and pharmacy staff in community and hospital pharmacies and pharmacy academics. Our membership currently stands at over 60 pharmacists and pharmacy staff involved in compounding pharmacies or in teaching compounding in tertiary institutions. Our objectives also include the establishment and maintenance of high standards of learning, skill and conduct in pharmaceutical compounding.

ACA is also represented on the Pharmacy Manufacturing Technical Working Group established by the Therapeutic Goods Administration to develop standards for compounding pharmacies. We have established working relationships with The Pharmaceutical Society of Australia and the Pharmacy Guild of Australia.

Medical practitioners in the clinics being examined by the House Standing Committee on Health and Ageing Roundtable Forum into Impotence may prescribe compounded medicines. The Association does not support entrepreneurial practices by prescribers or compounders of the like described and our concerns in this regard have been shared with the TGA, NCCTG, Pharmacy Boards, PSA and The Pharmacy Guild of Australia.

As far as we are aware, our members are not involved in the supply of compounded medicines to the impotence clinics in question however ACA may be able to assist the Committee in its enquiries.

Kind Regards

Mark Hickey Bpharm AACNEM JpQual
4th August 2009

PW 12/08/09

Australasian Compounders Association

Comment upon Health Impacts of Compounded impotency medicines in Australia to Round table forum to be held by House Standing Committee on Health & Ageing.

Mark Hickey
Director
Australasian Compounders Association

The Australasian Compounders Association (ACA) is a non-profit association formed in 2007 to provide representation on matters pertaining to pharmacy compounding to government, professional and regulatory organisations in Australia and New Zealand.

Our membership consists of pharmacists and pharmacy staff in community and hospital pharmacies and pharmacy academics. Our membership currently stands at over 60 pharmacists and pharmacy staff involved in compounding pharmacies or in teaching compounding in tertiary institutions. Our objectives also include the establishment and maintenance of high standards of learning, skill and conduct in pharmaceutical compounding.

ACA is also represented on the Pharmacy Manufacturing Technical Working Group established by the Therapeutic Goods Administration to develop standards for compounding pharmacies. We have established working relationships with The Pharmaceutical Society of Australia and the Pharmacy Guild of Australia.

Medical practitioners in the clinics being examined by the House Standing Committee on Health and Ageing Roundtable Forum into Impotence may prescribe compounded medicines. The Association does not support entrepreneurial practices by prescribers or compounders of the like described and our concerns in this regard have been shared with the TGA, NCCTG, Pharmacy Boards, PSA and The Pharmacy Guild of Australia.

As far as we are aware, our members are not involved in the supply of compounded medicines to the impotence clinics in question however ACA may be able to assist the Committee in its enquiries.

Kind Regards

Mark Hickey Bpharm AACNEM JpQual
4th August 2009