

Professor Leslie Zines

Professor Leslie Zines is an Emeritus Professor of the ANU, and has been a Visiting Fellow in the Law Program since 1997.

Professor Zines was a member of the Faculty of Law, ANU, for 30 years (1962-92). He was a Professor in the ANU Faculty of Law from 1967, becoming Robert Garran Professor in 1978. He was Dean 1973-1975 and 1984-1986. He taught mainly on the subject of Commonwealth Constitutional Law and the Law of Trusts. His chief research interests are in Australian and comparative and constitutional law, federalism and the European Union.

Retiring from the Faculty in 1992 Professor Zines was appointed Goodhart Professor of Legal Science at Cambridge for the academic year 1992-1993. From 1994-1996 he was a University Fellow at ANU and, after that, a Visiting Fellow in the Law Program RSSS until it moved to the ANU College of Law.

His published works include The High Court and the Constitution (4th edn 1997), Constitutional Change in the Commonwealth (1991), Federal Jurisdiction in Australia (2nd edn 1978) (jointly) and other books, articles and chapters.