Notice of motion – Business of the Senate

I give notice that on the next day of sitting, I shall move— That the following matter be referred to the Community Affairs References Committee for inquiry and report by 12 February 2025:

The failure of Australia to adopt evidence-based safeguards on the use of puberty blockers for gender dysphoric adolescents, aligning with international best practices, with particular reference to:

- (b) the inadequacy of current Australian safeguards compared to more precautionary approaches adopted in New Zealand, the United Kingdom, and other nations;
- (c) the over-reliance on experimental treatments instead of prioritising holistic, psychological, and social interventions for young people experiencing gender dysphoria;
- (d) the lack of regulation and oversight of off-label prescriptions of puberty blockers in Australia;
- (e) the absence of long-term data on the physical, mental health, and fertility impacts of these treatments;
- (f) the government's role in ensuring proper medical, ethical, and legal standards are applied to protect vulnerable adolescents;
- (g) the stifling of dissenting medical and scientific views in public and policy debates on gender-affirming treatments; and
- (h) any other related matters.
