Senator Scullion asked:

The NLC said that it examines section 35C reports. On how many occasions have issues of concern been raised with the corporations? And on how many occasions have serious concerns been reported to authorities including the Office of the Registrar of Indigenous Corporations. Provide copies of written reports provided to ORIC.

Answer:

The Northern Land Council ((NLC) has not, to date, raised issues of concern with Aboriginal corporations from its examination of reports provided under s 35C of the Aboriginal Land Rights (Northern Territory) Act 1976.

The NLC has not, to date, raised issues of serious concern with, or provided written reports to, the Registrar of Indigenous Corporations (or other authorities) from its examination of reports provided under s 35C of the Aboriginal Land Rights (Northern Territory) Act 1976.
