Question No: 449

Topic: NDIA – Accreditation of Service Providers

Hansard Page: Written

Senator Siewert asked:

What is being done to ensure people with disability understand what being an accredited/endorsed/approved service provider means?

Answer:

The National Disability Insurance Agency (NDIA) produces a number of fact sheets and resources to assist participants in implementing their plan. Participants are given information and assisted by NDIA staff in implementing their plan. The fact sheet Choosing a provider includes information on registered providers and is available at: www.ndis.gov.au/document/503.

A list of registered providers of supports is updated regularly on the National Disability Insurance Scheme (NDIS) website at www.ndis.gov.au/providers/registered-service-providers.
