Senator Moore asked:

How long does it take a graduate to find work in any area?

Answer:

The Department of Social Services is aware of the following publications that provide information on graduate employment.

Employment data on higher education graduates can found in table 1a of the Graduate Careers Australia's Graduate Destinations Report 2012. The report can be downloaded from the Graduate Careers Australia website at:

<http://www.graduatecareers.com.au/Research/ResearchReports/GraduateDestinations>.

Employment data on vocational education and training graduates can be found in table 1 of the National Centre for Vocational Education Research's Australian vocational education and training statistics –student outcomes 2013, which can be found by searching for the publication at: <http://www.ncver.edu.au>.
