Topic: Strengthening Communities/Strong and Resilient Communities Redesign

Hansard page: Written

Senator Louise Pratt asked:

The Strong and Resilient Communities redesign paper outlines three new grant programs – Community Resilience Grants, Inclusive Communities Grants, and National Projects and Research Grants. Will there be sub-activities of those grant programs? If so, what they will be? Can you provide us with an outline of the program guidelines?

Answer:

There are no sub-activities that sit under the Strong and Resilient Communities grant Activity's three grants programs.

A copy of the program guidelines for each of the Community Resilience grants, Inclusive Communities grants and National Research grants will be made available publicly on the Community Grants Hub when applications for grant opportunities open.

The Community Resilience grants round and the Inclusive Communities grants round are expected to open shortly. The National Research grants round is expected to open later in 2017.
