Senator Watt, asked:

What are the key blockages or barriers to this project being delivered?

Answer:

There are no known blockages or barriers however the National Disability Insurance Agency (NDIA) eMarket will depend on the development or availability of an appropriate technology platform and operating model which captures the advancements in technology for emerging eMarkets. Implementation of an eMarket will consider the readiness of the market to engage with this new way for the National Disability Insurance Scheme participants to exercise greater choice and control in how they implement their plans.
