Supplementary Budget Estimates Hearing 2014-15
23 October 2013

AGENCY/DEPARTMENT: Australian Skills Quality Authority (ASQA)

TOPIC: Registered VET facilities in South Australia

REFERENCE: Question on Notice (Hansard, 23 October 2014, page 74)

QUESTION No.: SI-211

CHAIR: Very quickly before I set you free. I live very close to the GMH factory. I live in Clare and it is on my way home. It is in the seat of Wakefield, and the northern suburbs have a 44 per cent youth unemployment rate. I am just giving you some context. We were greatly encouraged to see two of the 20 Prime Minister's Awards for Skills Excellence go to participants from the seat of Wakefield. Are you able to, on notice I suspect, let me know how many registered VET facilities there are in South Australia?

Mr Robinson: We could. I may have those figures somewhere but we will certainly come back with that.

CHAIR: I do not want to bog it down now. It is not a test.

Mr Robinson: We can certainly provide that information to you.

CHAIR: And particularly in the electorate of Wakefield, because we are trying to crank things up and get some outcomes. I am also interested in some benchmarks. What percentage of young people aged 15 to 19 are enrolled in VET courses—that is a question on notice—and how does South Australia's involvement in those programs stack up against the national average?

Mr Robinson: There are 253 RTOs in South Australia. We can give you a list of those.

ANSWER

A list of the 253 South Australian RTOs (correct as at 31 August 2014) is provided at attachment A. The eight providers shaded green at the top of the list are those with “Head Office” addresses located in the electorate of Wakefield (n.b. a provider may not offer training at its head office location).

ASQA does not collect data relating to student enrolments in VET courses. However, this information is collected by the National Centre for Vocational Education Research. Various publications and datasets relating to VET student enrolments are available at www.ncver.edu.au
