The ILC has engaged KPMG to undertake a best and highest use assessment of the National Centre of Indigenous Excellence (NCIE) site in George St, Redfern in Sydney. When complete, the assessment will include advice to the ILC on how to best utilise the site to allow NCIE to provide ongoing benefits to the Indigenous community while becoming more self-sustaining. The advice will include options for the best use of the site, which the ILC will consider in the context of its legislation, its strategic directions, and the needs and aspirations of the local and extended Indigenous community.
