QUESTION No.2
(Hansard 31/5/04, p.E51)

Senator Carr asked about:

What is the aggregate amount of money spent by the Department of Industry, Tourism and Resources on professional development for senior officers. How has that moved over the last three years? Can you provide the aggregate figure, and break it down into the two categories of officers [referring to SES and Executive Level 2 officers]?

ANSWER

SES and Executive Level 2 officers participated in the following corporate professional development programs (as indicated in responses to questions following the February 2004 hearings, figures on individual professional development opportunities within Divisions are not available). Expenditure figures represent a proportion of total spending attributable to SES/EL2 attendees.
