Budget Estimates Hearing 2012-13
28 and 29 May 2012

AGENCY/DEPARTMENT: AUSTRALIAN RESEARCH COUNCIL

TOPIC: Centre of Emotions

REFERENCE: Question on Notice (Hansard, Monday 28 May 2012, page 29)

QUESTION No.: BI-19

Senator BUSHBY – I will move on. I have the tabling report here, which gives a breakdown of the centre of emotions. That does not break it down in terms of how that money is allocated across the different projects?

Ms Harvey – No. As I said when I made my opening statement, Senator, they are required to report to us based on the categories in their grant. In particular, Hearts and Stones was a workshop, not a program. So we asked them particularly to break that down into that. We have then worked with them since the last estimates about what information—because a range of the information is not published externally—we could actually bring. If you would particularly like it broken down by program, we could ask them and table that to you out of session.

ANSWER

The breakdown of expenditure by research program for the most recent reporting period 2011 calendar year is as follows:

Research Program	Expenditure (GST Inclusive)
Meanings	$222,864
Change	$89,308
Performance	$84,785
Shaping the Modern	$66,535
Centre-wide Support	$322,038
