SENATE LEGISLATION COMMITTEE - QUESTIONS ON NOTICE 2003-2004 BUDGET ESTIMATES HEARING

Outcome: 3

Output Group: 3.2 – Assistance for science collaboration and innovation

DEST Question No. E138_04

Senator Allison asked on 4 June 2003, EWRE Hansard page 376

Question:

I do not intend to work through the whole report. I have a document I propose to supply the committee with and ask for detailed responses to. However, I wonder if I can just draw attention to some. The organisational structure that is shown on page 60 does not in fact match the structure which is shown on attachment 4.4 of the Gutteridge Haskins Davy report. Can you explain why that might be?

Answer:

Organisational structure

The difference between the organisational structure given by the Maralinga Rehabilitation Advisory Committee (MARTAC) on page 60 of their report and that presented in the report of the project manager (Gutteridge, Haskins and Davy Pty Ltd), is that the role of individual departmental advisers, both scientific and engineering, is shown in the MARTAC organisational plan. The project manager chose to group the Departmental advisers with the Department in their organisational structure.
