DEST Question No. E722_07

Senator Crossin asked on 1 November 2006, EWRE Hansard page 48:

Question:

(In the context of a discussion about vessels used for the transport of spent fuel and high and long-lived intermediate level radioactive waste.) Can you provide me with a list of those companies that have these dedicated ships?

Answer:

ANSTO has provided the following response:

Sea transport of radioactive material

ANSTO relies on shipping specialists to organise the charter of ships that are licensed to transport research reactor spent fuel.

As a result ANSTO is unable to provide a list of companies that have dedicated ships.
