Question Number: W691-07

Question:

Senator Wong asked in writing: Work Choices Implementation Agencies - National Adviser Network Programme How can people become aware of this programme?

Answer:

The National Adviser Network Programme (NANP) is promoted through the following avenues:

- National and local newspaper advertisements are placed prior to workshops running in a particular location.
- Radio advertisements will run between November 2006 and March 2007.
- Each individual state Chamber associated with the NANP will run their own promotion of the NANP through newsletters and mail outs to their existing members. Information on the NANP will also be forwarded electronically to current members. Each of the Chambers' websites also makes mention of the NANP and workshop details.
- The WorkChoices website contains information on the NANP. Other areas of the Department are also promoting NANP through their regular contact with industry.

Estimated cost: Based on the FOI calculator it has taken approximately 3 hours at an estimated cost of $60 to prepare this answer.
