Question:

Senator Crossin asked in writing:

The Minister stated at the pilot launch that officials from his department will closely examine the pilot. What has this meant in practice - what monitoring has been undertaken to date, how and by whom? Can you give any updated information on the progress of the participants?

Answer:

DEWR officials were in regular contact with the Australian Indigenous Leadership Centre throughout the pilot programme. DEWR staff from National and State Offices visited the residential components of the pilot programme.

The final report is to be provided to DEWR in January 2007. The report is to include a survey of all participants.
