Can you provide a copy of the publicly available data which will be provided on the new compliance arrangements introduced from 1 July 2009?

Answer

Public data for the new compliance arrangements introduced from 1 July 2009 is currently under construction. To ensure the accuracy of the data, a time lag after the end of the reporting period is required to permit outstanding review and appeal processing to be completed. The publication to be made available will include information by age, gender, allowance type and indigenous status.
