Question

Job Seekers

Of the job seekers for whom an employment outcome is made, what is the average number of hours per week they are working at their 13 week outcome mark?

Answer

In the year ending 30 June 2012, post-program monitoring survey results show that job seekers who were employed three months following a period of assistance in Job Services Australia (JSA), were working an average of 29 hours per week.
