

Senate Finance and Public Administration Committee—Budget Estimates May 2008

Parliament Portfolio, Department of Parliamentary Services

Answers to Questions on Notice

Topic: DPS Consultancies and Contracts

Question P2, F&PA 11

Senator RONALDSON—Okay. Mr Thompson, can I have a list of any consultancies and contracts that DPS have awarded in the last six months, including the value of each, the recipient's name, and a short description of the purpose of the consultancy or contract?

Mr Thompson—I do not think there is a problem with that. We would not be able to table that today as there are quite a few of them.

Senator RONALDSON—I assumed there would be no problems with it. Please take it on notice.

Answer

<sup>1</sup> Standing Offer Deeds are included in the QON information for completeness. However, they are not Contracts in their own right and therefore a dollar value cannot be attributed to them, nor are they gazetted. A standing offer deed, or panel, is an arrangement under which a number of suppliers may each participate in supplying goods and or services, without any guarantee of any volume of services, or indeed any services, being obtained from them. When goods or services are required an Official Order/Purchase Order is raised, which constitutes a 'contract' at that time.
