Date set by the committee for the return of answer: 10 July 2009

Question:

HS12: Senator BERNARDI—... You conducted a survey in the 2007-08 financial year. It was in your annual report, a thousand people. How much did that survey cost?

Mr Grundy—I do not have that figure available. I would like to take that on notice.

Answer:

HS20: The survey in Australian Hearing's 2007-08 annual report used in the Is Australia Listening? Attitudes to hearing loss report, was conducted by Quantum Market Research. This survey cost $29,150 including GST, and it was funded from revenue generated by Australian Hearing's commercial voucher market operations.
