Question: PM 20

Outcome 1, Output 1.1

Topic: Prime Minister's Meetings with the Exclusive Brethren

Hansard Page: F&PA 61

Senator Brown asked: Has the Prime Minister had a meeting with representatives of the Exclusive Brethren? If so, when and for what purpose?

Answer: Yes, the Prime Minister has met members of the Exclusive Brethren.

The Prime Minister meets many organisations and individual Australians to discuss issues important to them. Such discussions are confidential. The Prime Minister is appropriately respectful of those who talk to him and also mindful of the interests of others in the community who may have a different perspective. Decisions on policy, programme issues and administrative matters are made on their merits.
