Question No. 134

Senator Ludlam asked the following question at the hearing on 27 May 2009:

The Australian Institute of Criminology is one source of data on criminology related information. I understand there have been two rounds of applications for the permanent directorship of the institute and they have failed to employ anyone. What is the recruitment plan for the appointment of a new director?

The answer to the honourable senator's question is as follows:

The recruitment for the permanent directorship of the institute has been finalised. An announcement on the successful candidate will be made by the Government in the near future.
