Senator Cash (L&CA 99) asked:

Was the Ernst and Young review into NAATI funding ever made public?

Answer:

The independent review of the National Accreditation Authority for Translators and Interpreters was undertaken by WalterTurnbull (not Ernst & Young) in 2008-09. The review was made public and copies of the reports (WalterTurnbull Independent Review and Business Review Report) were provided to the Senate Committee in February 2011.
