

The recommendations of the + occupy Inquiry to legalise so called therapeutic human cloning, are intrinsically wrong as the process produces human embryos for research and destruction.

The process is also unnecessary, as no success has resulted from treatment with embryonic stem cells, while adult stem cell treatments have proved successful.

Canada has placed a moratorium on all somatic cell nuclear transfer (cloning) research, because of the serious danger to women from the drugs used during multiple egg extraction procedure.

The truly therapeutic recommendations should be for ethical procedures.

Yours sincerely,
