Committee Secretary,
I strongly object to the Bill which would force Pregnancy Counselling Services to include a statement re- not providing referrals for terminations.

Evidence abounds, that women who seek help at Pregnancy Counselling Services, are very often distraught ~~and~~ ~~maybe~~ ~~been~~ under pressure from family / friends to abort the baby.
Moreover, as recorded in literature and oral evidence, many women who do have abortions suffer enormous grief for years to come. No false information is provided by P.C.C.S.

Can you explain to me how pro-life counselling can be accused of being "false providers"?

Yours,
Anita M. Toner
