

My name is Jemma Gunn and I am writing to support the mandatory labelling of palm oil. As a consumer, I want to be informed if palm oil is incorporated in the foods and cosmetics I buy so that I can do my part to ensure a difference is made about the destruction of the habitats of the nearly extinct Orang-utans. My interest in the issue comes from a moral and ethical perspective. These orang-utans do not deserve to be rid of their natural habitat, and this is currently occurring because us consumers are not informed enough to make the decision not to buy palm oil. I Want The Choice.
