

To whom it concerns,

I am saddened beyond words at the destruction that is going on everyday to extensive forests where Orangutans and other wildlife live , they are being destroyed to make way for palm plantations (producing palm oil, which is widely available in 40% of products for sale in our supermarkets etc, in things like chocolate, baked goods, personal care products etc etc. Problem is they could be labelled 'vegetable oil' or other , therefore there is no way of knowing what products to avoid.

We need to see what we are buying/supporting so that we can make informed choices and hopefully put a stop to palm oil being imported and eventually the palm oil companies will realise there is no market for the oil anymore.

I fully support a bill for labelling products that contain palm oil.

I do not want to appear to give evidence before a senate committee

Thanks for your Time
