

To whom it may concern

I wish to make a submission for the bill standards amendment (truth in labelling - palm oil bill 2009. I would like any products that contain palm oil to be be labelled letting the consumer know that it contains palm oil. I do not wish to buy products that contain palm oil. After seeing the damage that is being done to the orangatan's habitat on the 7pm project recently and finding out about their possible extinction and their suffering due to loss of habitat and mothers being killed and babies left as orphans. I had no idea that this was happening and I think that we have a right to know what is in the products we buy and where it comes from. I do not agree with the destroying of the orangatan habitat for palm oil.

Thank you
