

I write to express my concern about the above bills. I understand that these bills will enable Medicare funding, access to the Pharmaceutical Benefits Scheme and professional indemnity premium support for midwives providing care for women to give birth in hospital.

Medicare funding for midwifery care is long overdue. It is not acceptable however to exclude homebirth from this funding and indemnity arrangement. By doing this Australia is totally out of step with nations such as the United Kingdom, Canada, The Netherlands and New Zealand.

These nations support the rights of women to choose homebirth and fund a registered midwife through their national health scheme. In New Zealand and the U.K women have a legislative right to choose homebirth.

The intersection of this legislation with the national registration and accreditation of health professionals will prevent homebirth midwives from registering. I believe this to be an unintended consequence and ask that you take steps to include homebirth within the Health Legislation Amendment (Midwives and Nurse Practitioners) and related Bills.

I support a system where all consumers are treated equally, with the same access to funding and the same insurance protection.

This legislation, if not reconfigured, will remove a woman's right to choose her own birth method and place of birth by not supporting homebirth in the scheme. I support a woman's right to choose and not be constrained by the medical model of hospitalisation. Pregnancy and birth are not an illness and homebirths are safe and natural and should be supported by insurance protection and funding. I ask you to seriously reconsider this legislation and include homebirth.

Yours sincerely

Jenny-Lee Heylen