

To Elton Humphery

We are self funded retirees after working in the NW of WA for over 30 years and now living in QLD. Life is good, and we live comfortably but feel we are sometimes discriminated against, because we are not pensioners. My husband has a seniors card but that only can be used in some retail and restaurants. Like pensioners it would be fantastic to receive discounts on our rates and telephone and some living costs. We do not cost the government anything and still pay taxes but would like our money to last well into old age, which is why I feel there should be some sort of benefits for self funded retirees.

I know this is not a formal submission that Kevin Rudd suggested I send, but hopefully you can use my suggestions to assist others in the future.

Thanking you

Ellen and Terry Banko
