

To Senators on the Senate Select Committee on Climate Policy,

In Europe, emissions trading schemes have exonerated serious polluters, for little cost, and hugely profited speculative traders.

Such a scheme might protect the coal industry, but wont work, if Govt in consultation with business cosily sets standards.

As the Greens say...,

Australia needs a strong, ambitious and fair emissions trading scheme, not a plan that protects polluters and stands in the way of the change we need.

Name: Richard Okill