Dear Sir

To be substaintable long term would be to substaintially increase feed-in tariff so everyone could be encouraged to solar. The opportunities of solar power for Australia are enormous which would give the community the opportunities of empowerment.

The jobs creation capabilities of an Australian Solar Power Industry is good for the country, good for the community's health and good for the economy.

Please provide Australia with a clean electricity owned by Australian for all. Australia is benefited with the ability to generate power from the sun, to which we seem to have more than our fair share, then let it be obtainable, affordable and sustainable.

Thank you for the opportunity.

Yours faithfully

Robert A. Redmond
