

To Whom it May Concern,

I am writing to express my concerns about the media standards in Australia. Of particular concern is the fact that AFL football has a PG rating and therefore advertisements are aired during the games advertising Smut such as ZOO Magazine. This magazine is soft core porn targeted at kids and contains advertisements for texting pornographic images to phone and smutty images. This magazine in itself is a disgrace and in any decent society should be outlawed, however how is it that they can advertise to my 5 year old child while he is watching the footy?????????
