

We agree that something must be done to stop the sexualisation of children in the media.

We agree that it is damaging to children's self image.

We feel it is robbing them of their childhood, and making them into adults sooner than they need to be.

Rebecca and David Field