

Hi Simon,

We were unlucky enough to start up a couple of months before the means test was introduced. We had 12kW of our initial sales ($150k) fall through, this was 95% of our sales. The thing that annoyed us the most about the introduction of the means test was not the actual test, it was more the fact that we had no warning. I had to hand back cheques for 8kW within the following couple of days because my clients hadn't submitted their PVRP forms in time.

Best regards,

Morgan Green

Green Solar Group
Design & Installation