Subject: Government killing solar industry

To Whom It May Concern

Obviously no one in Canberra, as it seems this government is hell bent on killing the alternative energy industry in this country whilst spruiking itself world wide as a saviour (what a joke).

Help us now with some form of legislation before we all go broke. Funny quote of the year 'ETS will provide green industry jobs'. Of course it will if there are no businesses left at the outset, easy to create jobs from zero, especially jobs in government for beauracrats.

Time to show some green credentials instead of just talking about it and continuously trying to give us a hard time, maybe we should all become coal miners then we might get support.

We like all others in the industry totally agree with Conergy Media release.
