Director's Report

Meeting with Fred Chaney – Polly Farmer Foundation

The Polly Farmer Foundation is going to set up an after-school based activity to assist high school students with tutors for their school work. It is a program that works in conjunction with the school. They will work with Yirarra and Alice Springs High School and this program gives both male and females the same opportunity.

This is already happening in the Pilbara (WA) and they now have students finishing year 12, so this program is making a huge difference.

Meeting with Jarrod Neesham – Clontarf College

This program is to help develop Aboriginal males finish school in conjunction with football. There has already been two young men from Alice Springs go to Perth to be a part of this college.

They are going to set this program up in Alice Springs, but are still considering how it will work. Clontarf is set up in many towns in WA, and Alice Springs will be the first to be setup outside of WA.
