

Dear Dir/Madam,

I would like to advise that I am against the holding of a Plebiscite on Australia becoming a republic.

I don't think we should change a system that works perfectly fine.

A plebiscite is not the way to proceed. The proper process for constitutional change is set out in Section 128 of the Constitution, which is the Referendum process. This requires the electorate to be properly informed of what is proposed. No designer question could possibly do this.

Kind regards
