

To the secretary

I am already concerned about the high level of American content on Australian TV. Its impact on our culture. Its low intellectual level of content. Most of all on the impact of such garbage on our children and the vacuum created by lack of real information or standards. If we go through with the current FTA the future of our children will be influenced by the culture promoted by this media. Is 4% of Australian content on pay TV in childrens programmes really sufficient to promote Australian culture to our children I think not.

Yours sincerely
