

I am currently a first year student studying a BA of Communications (Theatre/Media) at Charles Sturt University. I am concerned about my future employment opportunities in an industry that is about to be bombarded by everything American. This is already a very difficult industry to break into, as I am sure you are aware, that is about to be made even harder with increased competition from overseas. Do you not care about the youth of Australia? Do you not want to keep a unique "Aussie" identity? I am a voter and can find no benefits in this 'FTA' for me let alone anyone else in my position (there are a lot of us).

I look forward to a reply that defines the benefits specifically for me.

Soon to be an ashamed Australian
