

Dear Secretary,

It was great pleasure to have your response on the New Bill on Anti-Terrorism along with all the web-info. I have gone through all the documents and have seen that the needful provisions have been included in the Bill.

I personally am against all kinds of terrorism but in Bangladesh also, in the name of eradication of terrorism, many innocent people have been killed extra-judicially, illegally and many people have been under detention or living for days behind the bar.

Terrorism is a problem in every country. But in Bangladesh we see that there are state protected and state sponsored terrorists who are involved in anti-people activities by the support and patronization of the government mechanisms. We, the Christians and religious-ethnic minorities are the main targets of such legislation here in Bangladesh. That is my fear for the indigenous populations about this Bill.

Thank you again and kindest regards,
